TABLE TENNIS - Otters looking for new members

Ottery St Mary table tennis club is a thriving local club which currently has three teams in the Exeter and District Table Tennis league.

The club's A team is currently sitting second in Division One.

Jeremy Broad, a member at the club, says: "I am trying to generate more interest for what is a very enjoyable sport, practiced by too few in my opinion.

"Our club meets on Tuesday evenings from 7.30pm, for two hours, at the King's School Ottery St Mary, and is open to young and old alike, league or non-league players."

He continued: "Recently we were able to secure some really useful – and gratefully received – sponsorship from local business Otter Nurseries, who have kindly provided funding for us to purchase shirts worn by our league teams."

Taster sessions are free and the club would love to see new members.

Full details of the club can be found at www.tabletennis365.com/Ottery - or simply google Ottery St Mary table tennis club.

Sabine Taylor, the marketing and visual manager at Otter Nurseries, hands over the new league shirt to Ottery St Mary table tennis club chairman Bob Carlyon and two of the clubs younger players, Ethan and Keira Callard.
